SUBJECT: Guidelines on the Medical Mission Services for Children

I. RATIONALE

The Convention on the Rights of the Child establishes that State Parties must ensure that all children – without discrimination in any form – benefit from special protection measures; access to the best health and medical care attainable and appropriate alternative family care for a child in need.

While medical care and treatment is already available in the Philippines, such would entail exorbitant fees from the clientele. The medical needs of the people is usually the least priority of the low income Filipinos.

Likewise, abandoned and neglected children under residential care are dependent on the scarce resources of the agency. It must be noted that although medical care of these children are attended and provided for by the Government Organizations/Non-Government Organizations (GOs/NGOs), they are not financially capable to shoulder the major medical/surgical interventions needed for children under serious medical condition.

Medical mission for children was pioneered by Chosen Children in cooperation with accredited foreign adoption agency for children legally cleared for adoption. The mission was able to help numerous children under the care of the Child Caring Agency (CCAs) to have a new lease in life and an opportunity to have a permanent family.

It is therefore, important to establish partnership with international agency/organization who are committed to provide care and treatment/rehabilitation to the increasing number of children in need of medical/surgical care/interventions and whose medical conditions cannot be treated, managed or responded to in the Philippines due to financial constraint. In so doing, it is critical to set standards to ensure that the children to be covered by medical mission are fully protected of their rights and given appropriate care and treatment/rehabilitation. Likewise, it is to allow a greater number of NGOs to participate and engage in the medical mission service for the best interest of children.
