MEMORANDUM CIRCULAR 19
Series of 2014

SUBJECT: Revised Guidelines on the Implementation of the Modified Conditional Cash Transfer for Homeless Street Families

I. Rationale

The emergence of homelessness in highly urbanized cities and other urbanizing areas is becoming increasingly evident. Homeless families can be seen with their push carts, on the side streets or sidewalks, on the lawns of buildings, and in parks looking for opportunities to earn or a place to spend the night.

This is consistent with the findings of the United Nations Center for Human Settlements which construe that homelessness is linked to what has been called as Urbanization of Poverty. It asserts that poor people are driven to live in the streets of urban centers as the same provides them with opportunities to beg money and increased job chances of various new occupations such as those of scavenger, vendor, Barker, and sometimes illegal activities such as those of drug sellers, pickpockets, snatchers, and prostitutes (Aoki 2008).1

The State, through the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD), consistent with the constitutional policy and by virtue of international laws, adopts and pursues policies where the poor, vulnerable, and disadvantaged like homeless street families are empowered for an improved quality of life. The state recognizes its indispensable role in protecting and advancing their rights to life, liberty, and security while the DSWD, to which the responsibility is delegated unto, affirms comprehensive strategies to combat the various causes of their social and economic seclusion towards a rising standard of living.

In performing said mandate, the DSWD in partnership with various NGAs implemented the Pantawid Pamilya Pilipino Program. The Pantawid Pamilya Pilipino Program is a poverty reduction strategy that provides cash grants to extreme poor households to allow the members of the family to meet certain human development goals. In the impact evaluation done by the World Bank, in collaboration with SWS and supported by the ADB and AusAID, it showed the effectiveness of DSWD Pantawid Pamilyang Pilipino Program as a social protection strategy of helping the poor meet their immediate needs while investing in human capital to break the intergenerational transmission of poverty. Alongside, there have been several programs in the past aimed to curb the continued proliferation of street children and dwellers in the country. These are the Street Children Program, Sagip Kalinga Project, and the Comprehensive Program for Street Dwellers and Street Children.

However, even if such is the situation, the problem of homelessness and street dwelling persist to the detriment of the children who are not able to fulfill their rights as children. Hence, the Modified Conditional Cash Transfer Program for Homeless Street Families (MCCT for HSF) is designed to reach out to the Homeless Street Families who are definitely poor and more vulnerable and disadvantaged but were left out in the implementation of the Pantawid Pamilyang Pilipino Program because of their being excluded in the enumeration of the National Housing Targeting System for having without family homes. This MCCT for HSF aims to enable the HSF to overcome the barriers from enjoying the government’s social protection support and investments in their children’s human capital development.

II. Legal Bases

The DSWD is mandated to innovate and administer new strategies on social services and development intended to assist disadvantaged individuals, families, and communities for an improved quality of life.
